Let's Start!

There are so many things to do in the city! Let's take a walk!

Learning Outcome

Describe places, neighborhoods and countries in communicative situations.

Ask your partner:

- Where is your neighborhood?
- How many parks are there in your neighborhood?
- What's the name of your favorite bakery?

Can Do Statements

- I can ask and say where places are in a city.
- I can express location.
- I can describe places in a neighborhood.

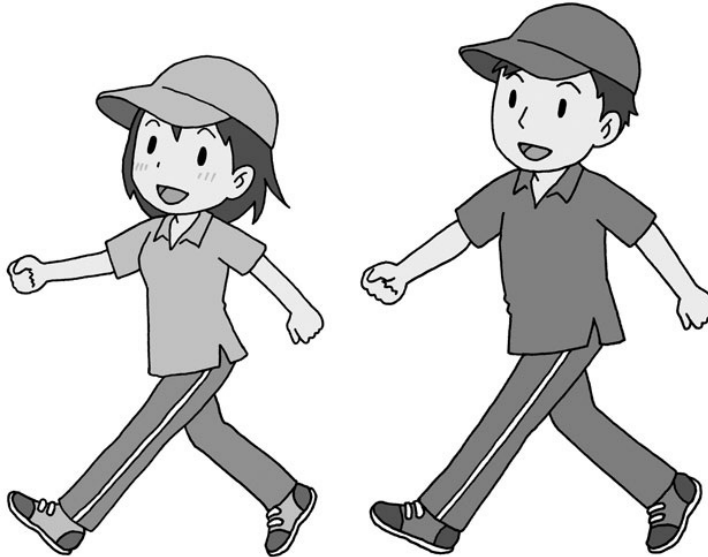

Let's Explore!

Let's take a walk with Peter and Vanessa around the neighborhood. Where do they want to go? Let's find out!

* A "neighborhood" is a small part of a town.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Vanessa: Hey Peter, do you know the neighborhood well?
Peter: Yeah, sure. It's my favorite part of town. Why?
Vanessa: Oh. What is there to do around here?
Peter: Well, there is a park right here.
Vanessa: Yes, the park across from the stadium on the left.
Peter: Yes, straight ahead. Then, there is the bakery, Riviera.
Vanessa: Oohh ... where is it?
Peter: It's right there, next to the Italian restaurant, I think.
Vanessa: You think?
Peter: Well, Sally always goes to the bakery. I usually go to the park to look at the trees.
Vanessa: OK, I see. Let's ask someone, maybe.
Peter: Sure, there are also a few shops near the park, on the right.

Let's Practice!

Peter knows the neighborhood quite well. What about Vanessa?

Instructions: Read the dialogue again. Select the correct answer.

Learning Points

Asking Where Places are in the City

When you ask where places are, you can use Is there ... ? or Are there ... ? to make a question.

You use expressions like left, right, straight ahead, across from or next to to say where things are.

Question	Answer
Is there + singular noun?	Yes, it is ... / No, there isn't.
Are there + plural noun?	Yes, there are ... / No, there aren't.

Examples:

- Peter: Is there a library in the neighborhood?
- Vanessa: Yes. It is straight ahead, across from the park.
- John: Are there many restaurants in your neighborhood?
- Sally: Yes, there are some next to the swimming pool.

Prepositions of Place

You use the following prepositions of place and expressions to talk about places in a neighborhood or city.

Preposition	Description	Example
right	Turning to the direction of your right hand	The park is on the right. left	Turning to the direction of your left hand	The park is on the left. straight ahead	Going straight in front of you	The stadium is straight ahead.
next to	Beside you	The bakery is next to the restaurant. near	Close to you	The bakery is near the restaurant.
across from	Opposite from you	The restaurant is across from the park.
